Q1: What does our values culture mean to you?
There is nothing more important to me than being a part of a culture with a common set of values. For me, they are more than just words, they provoke action and create a place where we can all feel vulnerable, and confident to speak to any and everyone about any and everything.

Q2: What is your approach to understanding the perspectives of colleagues with different backgrounds?
Being raised to always approach every situation with an open heart and mind has instilled a strong passion for people within me. I feel that if you genuinely care about the needs of everyone you meet no matter what, you can't go wrong.

Q3: What is the best career advice you've ever been given?
Always make yourself available for opportunities.
